As temperatures drop, stress spikes, and flu season rears its ugly head, it's time to once again set your patients up for immune system success. These formulations combine Eastern and Western ingredients, providing essential vitamins, minerals, and bioactive compounds to support healthy immune function and stimulate a strong stress response.* Each product offers potent blends of micronutrients, herbal extracts, and whole food concentrates, including mushrooms, quercetin, elderberry, ginseng, and probiotics, to promote immune, respiratory, and digestive health while protecting against free radicals.*

Immune Support

Strengthen the body's natural defense systems with Immune Support to enhance overall immunity. Combining vitamins C and D with trace elements zinc and selenium provides the micronutrients essential to healthy immune function. Plus, it includes a potent, proprietary blend of mushroom extracts with a long clinical history of providing powerful immune system support.*

Immune Resilience

Immune Resilience contains a comprehensive mix of micronutrients and herbal extracts like quercetin, ginseng, elderberry, and EGCG that support strong immunity and respiratory health.* This product promotes a healthy immune and stress response by balancing inflammatory markers and promoting adaptive immune cell activity—two critical roles of the immune system.*

Fruits & Greens Immune Support

Our bestselling Fruits & Greens Immune Support is a nutrient-dense and antioxidant-rich superfood formula packed with whole-food fruit and vegetable concentrates and the immune-enhancing support of elderberry, quercetin, and zinc.* This immune-boosting blend supports immune function, gut health, and energy metabolism with added probiotics, prebiotics, and digestive enzymes for optimal nutrient absorption.* And did we mention it's delicious?
